THE MILLER CENTER'S LEADERSHIP GIVING SOCIETY

A blue-tinted photograph of a statue of Thomas Jefferson, shown from the chest up, looking slightly to the right. The statue is set against a dark, textured background.

“Both of our political parties, at least the honest portion of them, agree conscientiously in the same object: the public good. But they differ essentially in what they deem the means of promoting that good.”

—THOMAS JEFFERSON, 1804

The Miller Center is a vital part of the University of Virginia. Our mission is to foster intellectually rigorous, nonpartisan research on American public policy and the U.S. presidency. We are committed to promoting civil discourse, stemming directly from Jefferson's founding principles for the University and the nation.

Our support comes almost exclusively from private individuals, families, and foundations. Your generous contributions to the Miller Center make our work possible. They are a vital component of our operational support and help to keep our weekly events free and open to the public.
